GLASS TREATMENT

PermaPlate Windshield Treatment contains a unique molecular coupling agent that chemically bonds to the glass surface. Fusing at the molecular level, it creates a hydrophobic and protective coating by capping the natural glass pores and its surface ridges. This bond utilizes the latest in non particle nano-chemistry to strengthen and improve the qualities of automotive glass, by grabbing and chemically fusing into the glass molecules creating a strong covalent bond that acts as a protective shield.

PermaPlate Pre-treatment chemically prepares the automotive glass surface by cleaning the surface of contaminants and by preparing the glass surface for the chemical-induced fusion of our glass treatment.
